With the help of people analytics, organizations are beginning to recognize the connection between flexibility, engagement, and more diverse talent pools. In a Gallup study of hybrid work, more than 90% of remote-capable employees say they do not want to come back to the office full-time and 3 in 10 hybrid employees are "extremely likely to change companies" if they are not offered remote

%